In the House of Lords, on the 21st, there was unusual excitement and crowded attendance on account of threatened hostility to a Bill repealing paper duty. Gravissima moved the second reading of the Bill, and explained that there would be ample time in the calendar to meet the loss of the day. He appealed to the House not to set an objectionable precedent by throwing out a money bill which had received the deliberate sanction of the House.

Lord Lyndhurst admitted that the House of Lords had no right to amend or postpone a money bill, but stated that their right to reject such bills has never been exercised if they had not been willing to do so.

He cited cases showing that Lords had rejected similar bills; and he regarded it as inexpedient at the present juncture to sacrifice a million and a half pounds to postpone the support of a money bill.

Lord Minto said that the high authority of Lord Lyndhurst had completely disposed of the question of the power of Lords to reject a bill; and after attacking Gladstone's speech, he moved that the House of Commons should not read a second time that day.

Lord Granworth, whilst admitting the privileges of the House of Lords, was of opinion that unprecedented exercise of them would involve the house in serious difficulties.

He called upon the House to move his amendment that the bill be read a second time that day six months.

Lord Derby spoke at length in opposition to the bill. He gave the opposition a hearty welcome, and supporters of the Government were requested to leave the room to avoid a collision.

On the contrary, he called upon the House to move his amendment that the bill be read a second time that day six months.

THE HASTINGS CHRONICLE.

We regret that the extreme length of our New York Correspondent's letter compelled us in every possible place to other matters, to insert only a part this week. The writer, who served his time in this office, has been for several years past a member of the New York Times, where he is occasionally on the Reporters' staff; and as he has promoted another letter on the subject, briefly as much as is consistent with that bulky subject.

The TOYAN.—We are indebted to Messrs Joseph Burnett & Co., of Boston, for a copy of their Toy and Novelty Catalogue, containing a great variety of articles, including Practical Toys for Boys, Red Indian War Drums, Practical Toys, and Oriental Novelty Boxes. They are really put up, and are very desirable additions to the collection of the articles commonly used. We will manifest on trial. They may be obtained at the Drug Stores of R. Holden & Son, and E. Chandler.

To Correspondents.—"Crox" has been received, and will appear in our next issue.

—We learn that tidings have been received at Quebec that the new English mail by the Canadian Railways will be discontinued, or at least suspended, bringing a definite programme of the arrangements connected with the Prince of Wales' visit to Canada.

The Prince Edward Islander states that the Lord Mayor of that island has a despatch from the Duke of Newcastle, officially stating that the Prince Edward will be at Charlottetown on the 12th inst., before the Royal Visit. He also states that the Duke of Gloucester, Prince of Wales, will be at St. John's on the 16th of July, and will be present at the opening of the Legislature.

It is said that "Tommy," the representative of "Young Anna," now with the Embroidery, has a quiet fit to make him ill. The magnate was trying to chat with him at the Continental Hotel, and at last told the youth that had a venerable female relative who desired to see him. "I am in the way of it, of course, of which he is a little," Tommy said. "Very well, I see her now." His sister greatly desired to see him. "Not so bad," he said. Mrs. Withworth, the wife of a Sergeant in the Royal Artillery, who was lately murdered with her six children, in the family home, was married to her destroyer at Kingston, N.Y., in 1847, when he was stationed in the garrison there. She is now a widow.

Practically resolved to levy a tax of £1,000 on the inhabitants for the purpose of raising £10,000 to defray the expenses of the Royal Highness. Will the tax be levied? Will those who pay taxes to the amount of £3 and upwards? This says the New Brunswick, will no doubt be cheerfully borne by our weaker inhabitants.

The widow of Ossawatomie Brown has received $30,000 from her colored sympathizers in Hayd.
